

The Soccer Game

BILL: Hey, Tom!

TOM: Hi, Bill!

BILL: I heard you made the soccer team. Congratulations!

TOM: Thanks, Bill! I've already played my first game.

BILL: Really? When?

TOM: Last weekend.

BILL: How was it?

TOM: It was fantastic. My whole family came to watch. I was pretty nervous, but I guess we all were.

BILL: Oh! So what happened?

TOM: John scored the first goal, and then we all started to feel better. I even scored a goal at the end.

BILL: And did you win?

TOM: Yes! And what about you? Are you still in the science club?

BILL: Yes, but I'm also going to try out for the chess team. Oh, I have a class! I have to run!

TOM: Me, too. I'll call you later. Bye!

BILL: See you, Tom!

1. Read the conversation and choose the sentence that summarizes it.

In the conversation...

- a. Bill went to the supermarket, and Tom went with him. They had a great time.
- b. Tom played his first soccer game, and Bill said he will try out for the chess team.
- c. Bill and Tom are brothers, and they were both in the soccer game last weekend.
- d. Bill played his first soccer game, and Tom mentioned he was in the science club.

2. Use the underlined phrases from the text to complete the table. Look at the example.

Starting a conversation	Keep a conversation going	Ending a conversation
		I'll call you later!